What are your favorites?		4 Independence Day! Organize a neighborhood celebration with a parade down Main Street and red, white and blue decorations.
5 Many neighborhoods and parks get pretty messy during 4th of July, so why not volunteer with the local clean-up effort?		7 What matters to you? Maybe helping animals or neighbors having enough to eat? Get involved with a local animal shelter or food bank and make a difference in your community.	8 Today is National Video Game Day. Get on DreamBox and play to your heart's content all week long! Show us your photos and tag us @dreamboxlearning.		10 Build a backyard obstacle course using cones, hula hoops, brooms and other stuff from your house. Take a walk and get your favorite flavor!
12 Be a tourist in your own town. Get some friends together and check out some of the cool, popular attractions. What's the best thing you saw all day?		14 Salute to J. Standard, a famous Black inventor, who invented and patented the refrigerator on this day in 1891!	15 Create a neighborhood scavenger hunt and invite your friends and family to play. What kind of cool items can you ask people to find? And what kind of prize can you award the winner?		17 World Emoji Day. Get your friends together and create an emoji language all your own. How many can you create? Get them posted on social media and share!

Set up a 'make your own sundae' bar with ice cream and toppings and share with friends in the backyard.	20 Who said the famous words, "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind"? Check out your local bowling alley, arcade, library or movie theater.		24 	25 Head to the park to try a new sport like frisbee golf. Better yet, create a new game with friends, complete with 'how to play' guides, point system and how a winner is determined.
26 We love that every family is different and unique – time to celebrate National Aunt &amp; Uncle Day AND National Parents Day! Get creative - give them homemade treats, art and a big hug.		28 Go online or flip through a cookbook and find a new recipe for dinner.
